An Underwater Curiosity Dive Park has been established in Balaclava Bay, south of the Portland Harbour Inner Breakwater. The allocated area is 100m by 50m in size, marked by four Special Mark yellow buoys.

The seaward corners of the area are marked by yellow Special Mark buoys (Flash Yellow, 2s). The inner corners, close to the breakwater, will be marked by two unlit yellow Special Mark buoys.

The park is located within 150m of the Inner breakwater, therefore all divers will need to be in possession of a Portland Harbour Dive Permit.
